Altera Apartments was the second apartment building to be constructed at Stonefields.

Altera was a joint venture development by Todd Property Group and Fletcher Residential, and designed by renowned architects Warren & Mahoney. It is a five-storey residence, comprising of two and three bedroom apartments. All Altera apartments sold off the plans and prior to completion of construction.

As an award-winning, master-planned community developed by Todd Property Group, Stonefields offers a modern and active way of life for people of all ages. A richly diverse and innovative urban village located just 8km from Auckland's central business district, Stonefields offers a social, safe and relaxed community-feel for its resident base. Once completed, Stonefields will be home to approximately 6000 residents.
